Community Garden Plots - update from the Parish Council.
This time last year the Parish Council carried out a village consultation on the future of the former allotments at Little Sammons. This was following the announcement by Somerset Council of their intention to sell the land on the open market. There was strong feedback from the village that we should try to retain and protect this land for village use. After some delays, Somerset Council has now advised that they are considering the Parish Council's request to transfer the parcel of land, under their devolution powers. However, they have advised they first need to carry out investigations to regularise the leases and site boundaries; this is expected to take some time to sort out. This means that in the meantime any issues with the Community Garden Plots should be referred to Somerset Council.
